

Cookies Policy

The Cookies Policy is developed and implemented within Otet Group, namely, 1) Otet Group Ltd., a company duly incorporated in Saint Lucia, registration No. 2023-00595, being a brokerage company, 2) Otet Group LTD, a company duly incorporated in the Comoros Union (Mwali), registration No. HY00523012, holding a valid Brokerage License No. T2023304 issued by M.I.S.A. Ltd. (each hereinafter referred to as the “Company” or “we” or “our” or “us”). Both Companies use cookies on this website. By using our website, you consent to the use of cookies. Please review our Privacy Policy for additional information on how we process personal data collected from our website visitors and users.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small pieces of text placed on your device when visiting the website, that allow us to track, save, and remember information about your activity on and use of our website. They are information, not programs, thus they cannot contain viruses. They allow us or a third party to recognise you, make your next visit easier and our Services more useful to you, as well as to improve the performance of our website and to collect statistical data. We have a legitimate interest in carrying out these actions, and we promise that there will be no impact on your privacy. You have the right to withdraw permission or adjust your choices at any time.

How the Company uses cookies

We use both ‘session’ and ‘persistent’ cookies to run our Services. ‘Session’ cookies stay on your device until you stop browsing. ‘Persistent’ cookies stay until they expire or are deleted.

Cookies help us to enable functionality for the provision, protection, and enhancement of our Services, to record your browsing activity, to determine when you are logged in, to keep your data and account safe and secure, to enable adverts and behavioral advertising, to provide mailings, analytics, and research, to monitor statistics data, to retain your preferences and information about your actions, allowing us to improve your usability and to provide you with the best possible experience on our website.

The types of cookies used are as follows:

Strictly Necessary Cookies: These cookies are essential, as they enable you to move around our Services and use their features, such as accessing logged in or secure areas.

Essential cookies: These cookies allow us to authenticate users and prevent fraudulent use of user accounts.

Performance Cookies: These cookies collect information about how you have used the Services. They may also be used to show you have logged in so we can serve you fresher content, or to track aggregate Services usage so we can test new features and changes on the Services. These cookies are often used for load balancing to ensure that the website remains up and running and to improve Services performance.

Functionality Cookies: These cookies allow us to remember your actions, for example how and when you logged in and out; if you choose to block advertisements; the history of Services tools you've used. They also allow us to tailor the Services to provide enhanced features and content for you, and to remember how you customised the Services.

Targeting Cookies: These cookies are used to deliver content that is more relevant to you and your interests. This information may be shared with organizations to deliver advertising and help measure the effectiveness of an advertising campaign, or with other business partners to provide aggregate usage statistics and Services testing.

Third-party cookies: Third party cookies report usage statistics of the Services, or deliver advertisements on and through the Services. Please note that some are essential to our platforms and as blocking them would severely damage performance, no option to opt out is provided.

Choice of Cookies

When you visit our website, you will be prompted to accept/enable or refuse/disable the additional cookies. If you disable the additional cookies, we will continue to use the required cookies to run the website.

To customize your use of our website and enjoy maximum functionality from our Services, we recommend that you accept all of our cookies. Please keep in mind that if you choose to disable cookies, our website will be unable to remember your visit and provide you with the level of convenience that we would want.
